

"TUMBLEWEED"

SPONSORED BY:
WJET TV-24

A balloonist for 11 years, Jeff has logged 344 hours of flight. He is employed and an engineer with Delphia and his club affiliate is NOBPA. While driving home from the Women's Championship in Oregon Sandy sat designing a new balloon and a tumbleweed blew across the road, hence the balloon's name "Tumbleweed". It can be identified by its solid blue color with red and yellow diamonds around its center. Jeff's awards include the 2003 BFA PA State Balloon Championship and in 2005 the BFA AX7 Long Jump Championship... where his most memorable moment occurred during a 11,500 ft. flight from th northwest corner of Ohio to the southwest corner of PA...a feat lasting 4 1/2 hours and covering 237 miles.

Pilot: JEFF BARLETT
Sharpsville, PA

